1st CCS Project Network meeting 2011

Closing Messages – Day 1

Jan Panek
Head of Unit
European Commission, Directorate-General for Energy

Directorate-General for Energy

16 February 2011

CCS Project Network meeting, Brindisi, Italy

👉 Conclusions from today's meeting (1)

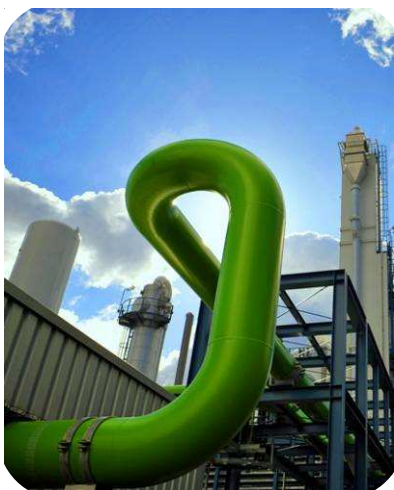

👉 Several areas where EU-US engagement can bring mutual benefits:

- i. Exchange of experiences on public engagement and building stakeholder confidence, especially regarding reaction to incidents and media coverage
- ii. Viable investment models across the CCS supply chain
- iii. Measurement, Monitoring and Verification (MMV) tools and regimes
- iv. Health, Safety & Environment relating to amine use

👉 There is appetite for continued interaction:

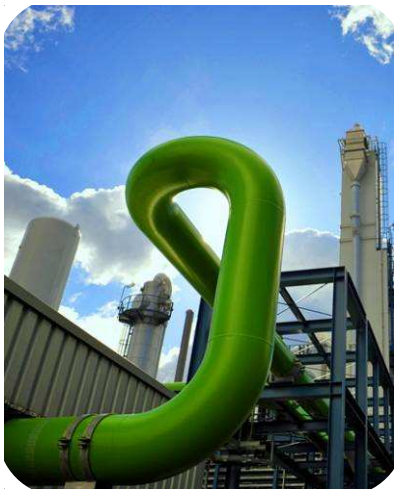

- 👉 Meetings to discuss relevant topics? Webinars?
- 👉 Open & standing invitation to US projects to present at future Network meetings

👉 Conclusions from today's meeting (2)

- 👉 The first results from the pilot projects being developed as part of the demonstration programme are now delivering results
 - 👉 The results are very promising
 - 👉 These will be of value to the Network as it becomes the reliable repository of information on CCS demonstration in Europe
- 👉 Valuable tools are being developed to help projects and governments through the permitting journey
 - 👉 Take advantage of the Scottish Government and GCCSI's offer to provide support with deploying the Scottish Toolkit!

👉 Today's meeting good basis for tomorrow

- 👉 Tomorrow a more standard knowledge-sharing event
 - 👉 Three break-out sessions
 - 👉 More restricted access
- 👉 Need to focus on harvesting learnings and information for dissemination
 - 👉 Remember Advisory Forum requests
